PREAMBLE

Uganda has suffered the wrath of HIV/AIDS epidemic since 1982 and millions of citizens have died leaving thousands of members of families and children vulnerable.

Insecurity at the border areas to Karamoja, a hostile tribe notorious for cattle-rustling has also brought untold suffering to the people of Northern and Eastern Uganda. Lives, properties and livelihoods have been shattered.

The influx of the Lord's Resistance Army rebels of a self-styled warlord Joseph Kony into the North and East confounded the situation. A lot of property was destroyed and over 5,000 children were abducted and forced to be combatants and sex-slaves. Some of them have since returned but very traumatised.

There is thus an increasing number of vulnerable children in Northern and Eastern region and in Uganda in general.

As of now the bulk of support has been contributions from members and isolated donations from personal friends. This is making our task very difficult. We are therefore asking for a partnership with you. We also welcome volunteers to work in our projects.
